Getting to Manhattan College

- Air Transportation
 - For those traveling from other countries, many services from major non-US airlines may be handled by U.S. carriers through alliances. In the U.S., major alliance carriers are:
 - Oneworld – American Airlines
 - SkyTeam – Delta Air Lines
 - Star Alliance – United Airlines
 - New York City is served by two major international airports as well as an “in-town” airport that handles primarily domestic flights.
 - Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR)
 - EWR is the most convenient airport to access rail transportation to Manhattan College and is a major operational center for United Airlines.
 - Passengers arriving at Newark Liberty may take New Jersey Transit (or Amtrak, though it is more expensive) trains to New York Penn Station where they may connect to the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) subway #1 Train (Uptown.) The last stop on the #1 Train (Van Cortlandt Park-242nd Street) is a short walk to the dormitory and registration. One possible route is as follows:
 - From your arrival terminal take the Newark AirTrain to the AirTrain/EWR railroad station (US $5.50).
 - At the EWR railroad station take the New Jersey Transit Train to Penn Station (US $7.50). Check schedules and fares at the NJ Transit Trip Planner.
 - At Penn Station purchase a MetroCard (usable on all NYC subways and buses). The NYC Metro Trip Planner can be accessed by clicking here.
 - Use your MetroCard to take the #1 Train Uptown to the Van Cortlandt Park-242nd Street subway station.
 - Manhattan College check-in is a brief walk from the subway station.

- EWR is served by numerous airlines including:

Aer Lingus	Delta	SAS
Air Canada	El Al	Southwest
Air China	Elite Airways	Spirit
Air India	Ethiopian	Swiss
Alaska Airlines	Icelandair	TAP Portugal
Allegiant	JetBlue	United
American Airlines	La Compagnie	Virgin America
Austrian Airlines	Lufthansa	Virgin Atlantic
British Airways	OpenSkies	WOW Air
Cathay Pacific	Porter Airlines

- John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK)

- JFK is a major international hub for Delta Air Lines and has a significant presence of other carriers, most notably American Airlines and British Airways. JFK is not served by either Southwest or United.
- Buttimer participants from outside the United States may find airfares and schedules to and from JFK worth considering.
- Travel from JFK to Manhattan College is a bit more challenging, given that there is no direct link to the MTA or to the Northeast Corridor. Having noted that, the MTA provides good service overall. One possible route could be:
 - From your arrival terminal take the JFK AirTrain (red line) to Jamaica Station (US $5.00).
 - From Jamaica Station take the Long Island Railroad (LIRR) train to Penn Station (US $10.00). The LIRR schedules & fares site may be of assistance.
 - At Penn Station purchase a MetroCard (usable on all NYC subways and buses). The NYC MTA Trip Planner can be accessed by clicking here.
 - Use your MetroCard to take the #1 Train Uptown to the Van Cortlandt Park-242nd Street subway station.
 - Manhattan College check-in is a brief walk from the subway station.

- It is also possible to travel from JFK to Manhattan College using just the AirTrain and the MTA subway, again check the Trip Planner.
- JFK is served (either directly or through alliances) by:

▪ LaGuardia Airport (LGA)

- LGA has limited rail connections, and we do not recommend that participants use this airport if at all possible.
- LGA is a facility that primarily serves domestic destinations (though Air Canada and WestJet provide service to Canada).
- Arrival and departure delays can be more significant at LGA than at the other New York metropolitan airports.
- Construction at LGA may cause additional travel challenges.
- All MTA connections to and from LGA require the use of buses, a consideration for anyone with luggage. If you wish to explore this option you may click here to access the MTA Trip Planner.
- LGA is served by the following airlines:

Air Canada	JetBlue	United
American	Southwest	Virgin America
Delta	Spirit	WestJet

Getting Around New York

- For most, having a car in New York City would be problematic. Traffic issues are significant and parking in most areas of the city is limited and expensive.
- For those who will drive to and from Buttimer, parking at Manhattan College will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.
- During the middle weekend and on the 4th of July, most, if not all, will want to see something of the city. The MTA (subway and bus) is efficient and fairly inexpensive. You may want to check out MTA’s route planner by clicking here.
- If you are using a taxi, car service, Uber or Lyft, please make sure that the driver understands that you wish to go to Manhattan College in Riverdale (the Bronx). The address for Lee Hall is 4455 Manhattan College Parkway, Riverdale, NY 10471. However, taxi, car service or shared ride service drivers have difficulty finding Lee Hall. It might be easier for drivers to find the Asian Tokyo Restaurant, located at the bottom of the stairs that lead to Lee Hall. Asian Tokyo Restaurant is located at 4685 Manhattan College Parkway.
