Overview

Cristo Rey De La Salle East Bay High School (CRDLS) is a diverse, independent, co-educational Roman Catholic learning community. Its mission is to educate young men and women of limited economic means to succeed in college and life and to develop a commitment to faith, purpose and service. CRDLS integrates a rigorous, personalized college preparatory program with an innovative Corporate Work Study Program. Under the Corporate Work Study Program, each student is employed one day per week by a local or community agency to support tuition assistance and complement the school's curricular program. CRDLS is one of 35 Cristo Rey Network schools serving students across the United States. CRDLS is sponsored by the De La Salle Christian Brothers of the Lasallian District of San Francisco New Orleans, who have been educating youth worldwide for over 300 years. The school is located in the Fruitvale District of Oakland, CA.

CRDLS is entering its second year of operation. For the 2019-2020 school year, CRDLS plans to serve a class of 65 sophomores and 80 freshman students through a faculty, staff, and administration of 18 professionals When fully enrolled, CRDLs expects to serve approximately 400 students through 30 professional staff. CRDLS also relies on a robust team of volunteers.

Families at CRDLS pay a small fraction of the cost to educate. Every family at CRDLS is a beneficiary of tuition assistance. The balance of funding comes through the Corporate Work Study Program and through the generosity of foundations, non-profit organizations, and individual philanthropists and investors in mission.
